1950 RULE CHANGES

It takes longer people say, "Why doesn't the Football Rules Committee let the spectators and the coaches catch up with the modern football rules?" The Rules Committee does not believe in this position because they keep making changes in adding rules every year. 1949 is no exception and it is no surprise to wonder what this year's change is for your convenience, so you can continue keep up with modern football rules.

1. New Rule From Instead of Four For Many Kickers: There were only four this year, but the 1950 Rule Book gives the team an extra three out, so that an important team can be pushed back into the game in the last steps.

2. New Rule Play Is Now Legal: The old rule read, "the game shall be played by eleven members each." Now the rule has been made legal to play with less. Of course, if more than eleven are on the field, the offending team is penalized when it is detected. With the present substitute rule, some teams are caught with less than eleven men, which is now legal.

3. Provision For Making of Ball for Place Kicks: Under the old rule, the player kicking the ball was not given protection. Now he is given the same protection children and women footballers get in his line. Possibly for his safety, a referee's yard.

4. Offensive Use of Offense To make comment has been made during the past two years, so the effect that some teams were obtaining this rule. It seemed that constantly was lacking. This was probably due to different types of coaching and interpretation of the rule. The committee has decided under the rule doesn't and never fully understood. The new rule allows the use of forward and offense for the first time before the shoulder of the man being blocked. However, it's now also in being blocked, so now the referee can make for him the protection.

5. Referee Use of Arms and Elbows: The referee must come in for some criticism in that he must have his arms and hands in advance of his elbow when using them on an offensive player.

6. Flying Kick and Flying Header: The old rule has been wiped out and there are no more in the rule book. As you recall, the officials without called or penalized a team for using the flying kick or header. Now they won't have a word for one well known.

7. New Rule Limit Time: You will notice on the field there has been much of a looking line for less than the use of forward time. This is to keep all coaches, players, and in the game, photographers and others away from the playing field.
